

Ringley Legal Service Team Delivers Results

Mar 1, 2007

Property solution providers, Ringley, has reported that it's Legal Services Team who deliver affordable services for typical lease breaches such as service charge arrears, breach of covenant and title defects, achieved a successful outcome for over 800 arrears litigation cases received last year with only 35 cases proceeding to detailed evidential exchange or full hearing.

Both Freeholders and Resident Management Companies benefited from the results that Ringley's Legal Service Team services delivered last year. In upholding the service charge provisions of Clients leases Ringley's Legal Services Team achieved successful outcomes for every arrears litigation case by presenting to the Leasehold Valuation Tribunal where matters of reasonableness were at issue or the County Court for more straight forward cases.

Mary-Anne Bowring, Founding Director of The Ringley Group comments:

"94% of the 5,000+ fully managed properties that we look after are Resident Management Companies, this means the client is commonly a Board of Directors elected from the flat owners. Therefore, Ringley's is acutely aware of the need to perform and assist others in formulating a strategy that not only gives regard to the lease but when sending out a service charge bill that each service charge payer considers the bill to be reasonable and value for money."

Ringley is a progressive forward thinking property company that offers its clients a transparent fee scale with almost all services on fixed scale fees. Ringley is proud of not only its successes but also that no Ringley Client needs to fear amassing hourly charge. Since 1997, Ringley has grown to employ 40 individuals and supports team members to attain professional membership of the accountancy, legal, estate management and surveying professions.
